For an international concerted policy of labour history archives digitisation.

This Workshop, organized by IALHI, is devoted to the various digitisation policies of its members. Its objectives are to coordinate at a European level the various digitisation policies, and to look for the creation of a specialized digital library. Another aim is to define the future IALHI policy.

The morning's contributions will be about digitisation policies of traditional paper archives.

The afternoon will be more directly devoted to born digital archives.
Contributions are expected to open a debate.
I t will be possible to speak in English or in French.

The workshop will be really interesting only if there are many IALHI participants and if the debate leads us to effective new IALHI orientations and projects. Let's try to be with us!
